SIMPLEX SPLITTING AXE

Combining two tools into one, a splitting axe and a soft-face mallet of the highest professional quality, splitting axes offer a significant savings in cost compared to the individual purchases of the tools.

The drop-forged and hardened axe blade is ground and polished. Its slender shape makes it ideal for splitting coniferous wood. The superplastic insert with D50mm is a medium hard plastic insert. Using the soft side when wedging the wood open entirely eliminates the risk of injury from metal splinters.

Made of cast iron, the housing comes with an integrated handle protection sleeve that provides for a high level of break resistance.

The long-fibre and ultra durable hickory handle is varnished and shaped ergonomically.
